Summer Seminar 2021 Classes

CLASS: Me, Myself and I – Natural Order Unfoldment

Presenter: Dennis Reuter
Duration: 1-1.5 hours

There is a power guiding us toward the energy world. Our personalities too often interfere with this guidance, or do not know it exists. Personalities orient to a sense-based, neurological world of things and objects appearing to be outside the body. Personalities generally ignore the real, dynamic energy world upon which its biologically-created world rests. Personal beliefs and decisions often rely on this distorted view of the world.

But the power to be conscious, active on all levels, also builds a psychic nature within the energy world. The psychic nature awakens to dynamic forces and their qualities, creating a relation-based world of structured energy. This awareness aligns us with the real, and helps us cooperate with the unfolding natural order process. Using a T-shirt metaphor, we will explore the relationships that arise among the personality, the psychic nature and the Noetic Self (the True Self).

Dennis Reuter has studied general semantics and SNO's teachings for 40 years.

CLASS: Disappearing Goats

Presenter: Eric Schneider
Duration: 1-1.5 hours

My intention for this class is to start with fundamental concepts/descriptions and slowly build upon this foundation to harvest practical applications of the SNO teachings. I'm envisioning much class participation! As for the meaning of the title of this class, I envision it will become quite apparent as the class proceeds.

EVENT: Freeform Dance/Expressive Movement

Presenter: Eric Schneider
Duration: 1-1.5 hours

For me, expressive movement/dance has been a revelation! Through dance there is a discovering and uncovering of guna qualities within my configuration, and therefore, patterns of my psyche. I have found pockets of Sattvic energy: open, relaxed, creative, as well as Rajasic: passionate, angry, grieving, and Tamasic: stuck, rigid, fearful.

As I have continued to dance, I've noticed shifts in these qualities. An area that felt stuck begins to loosen. Fear might shift to anger, and then again to creativity, and then possibly to Joy! "No" might transform to "Yes!" Please join us, "Come on in, the waters fine!"

CLASS: Feeling Our Way, from 'Then and There' to Now

Presenter: Steven Anderegg

Duration: 1-1.5 hours

Generally speaking, any given individual spends every moment searching for meaning and purpose whether unconsciously or consciously. This class will address our urge to 'know' and how we look for answers in past experiences with future anticipations, all the while catching glimpses of NOW, having moments of presence. Discussions to include becoming conscious of the activities in the 'psychic nature'.

Steven Anderegg is a student of meditation, and has been involved with various teachings of a 'spiritual' nature for some time now. Steven's initial contact with SNO began in the eighties and he continues to study meditation, consciousness and the individualizing process.

CLASS: Tai Chi and 3M

Presenter: Corry Dodson

Duration: 1-1.5 hours

Corry will offer a Tia Chi class accompanied by an exercise of Mindful Meditative Movements.

CLASS: Abstraction and the Physics of the Eye

Presenter: Jeremiah Hess

Duration: 1 hour

Vitvan uses General Semantics to describe the abstraction process. Whether that is conscious or unconscious abstraction, those of us who use vision rely on the eye as one of the mechanisms with which images are formed, by the blending and bending of light and wave frequencies.

This presentation will provide a brief overview of the levels of the abstraction process representing a given state of expanding consciousness, with a focus on the physics of the eye and how images are formulated to appear substantive.
